Streamlining Collaboration with Suppliers

Streamline your supplier product data onboarding processes with the Perfion Supplier Portal to save time and get new products to market faster. This comprehensive platform facilitates seamless communication and data exchange between your organization and suppliers, ensuring a centralized and efficient process.

Use case: 1

Suppliers create, enrich and maintain products in the portal

With this setup, suppliers create and manage their product catalogs in the Perfion Supplier Portal. You accept the products you want in Perfion and reject the rest. Rejected products remain in the portal. Suppliers are responsible for keeping product data up to date in the portal. Product data updates are highlighted in Perfion for you to accept or reject leaving you in full control of data quality.

Use case: 2

Perfion owner creates products in Perfion and exposes them to suppliers for enrichment

With this setup, you select products in Perfion for exposure to suppliers in the portal. Suppliers enrich products with data, and you easily accept or reject supplier data directly in Perfion.

Use case: 3

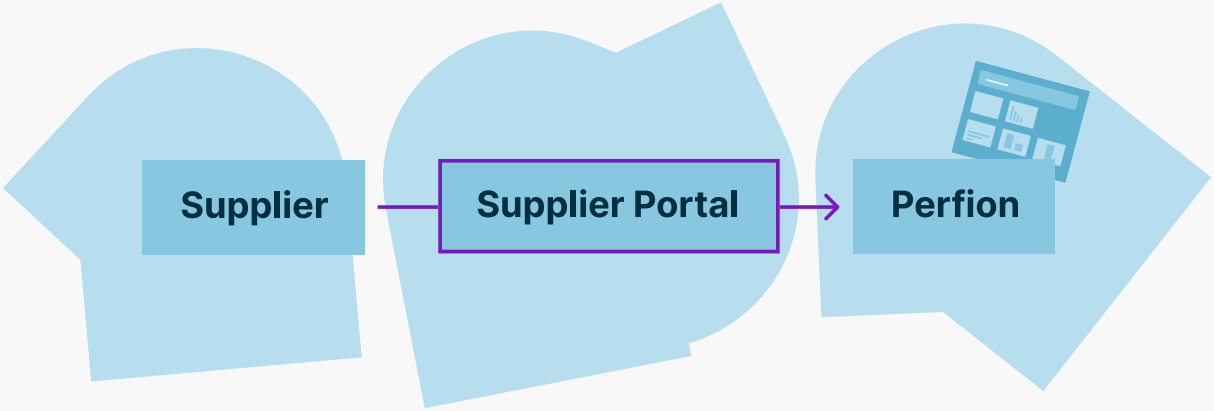
Supplier portal is used to onboard products and data from “external” sources

Through API endpoints, data files or other means of connectivity, the Perfion Supplier Portal seamlessly gets products and data from external (or internal) sources and transforms it to Perfion data formats. Products can be auto-accepted into Perfion for swift integration or manually accepted or rejected. Regular automated runs ensure up-to-date information, while highlighted changes in Perfion allow easy acceptance or rejection of data updates.



Key features

Streamlined Product Upload

Suppliers can effortlessly upload selected products or entire catalogs through various methods, including manual data entry, file imports, and fully automated integrations with supplier data feeds.

Automatic Data Validation

Ensure data compliance with internal rules through automated validation, covering mandatory fields, data types, text formats, number ranges, and more.

Integrated Digital Asset Management

The portal supports the easy handling of digital assets. Suppliers can upload product images and files, enhancing the overall product information.

Data Transformations

Automated integrations include data transformations, such as merging data fields, trimming texts, unit conversions, and more, ensuring consistency and accuracy.

Efficient Product Approval Workflow

Perfion owners can accept or reject products from supplier catalogs. Acceptance can be automated for selected suppliers, while rejected products remain in the portal for easy subsequent acceptance.

Seamless Product Integration

Accepted supplier products are seamlessly integrated into Perfion as internal products, ready for further enrichment. Perfion products are intelligently linked to supplier products for comprehensive management.

Flexible Data Update Handling

Easily accept or reject subsequent supplier data updates in bulk or at the product level. Automation options are available for trusted suppliers and specific attributes.

Enhance Collaboration, Ensure Accuracy

The Perfion Supplier Portal stands as a pivotal asset, fortifying collaboration and ensuring data accuracy in your supply chain management. Serving as a centralized hub for seamless interaction with suppliers, the portal streamlines communication, expedites approval workflows, and minimizes the risk of errors. Suppliers benefit from a user-friendly interface supporting various data upload methods, from manual entry to fully automated integrations. The portal's data validation features guarantees compliance with internal rules, contributing to a reliable and accurate database. Additionally, its integrated digital asset management empowers suppliers to enhance product information with ease, uploading images and files effortlessly.
